Pioneer Line of Steamers,

—FOR—

THE COMMODIOUS STEAMERS

PIONEER AND COMMODORE ADAMS,

Will leave New Berne for Norfolk on TUESDAY of each week at 8 o'clock, A M, connecting with the different lines of steame for the above-named points. Shippers of Goods w receive every facility and accommodation for the transportation of the same, as arrangements have been made with the different companies to forward goods to this line at low rates and without delay Each of these steamers are capable of carrying through the canal without difficulty, as they were built expressly for the trade. They are fitted up with STATE ROOMS and BERTHS capable of accommodating thirty five passengers. Every attention will be paid to the comfort of passengers, who will not be subject to the inconvenience of transfer to other vessels, but will be taken through direct without change.

The tables of the steamers are liberally supplied with the best the market affords. Families travelling will find it to their interest to take this line, as they will thereby escape the danger and discomfort of a sea route, and the fatigue of railroad travel.

On the 15th of December next, if the business of the line warrants it, the steamer WILLIAMS will be put on the route, and tri-weekly trips will be made

For freight or passage apply to WHITFORD, DILL & CO., New Berne, N. C.

New Skirt For 1866.

J. W. BRADLEY'S New Patent DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (or double) SPRING SKIRT.

THIS INVENTION consists of DUPLEX (or two) ELLIPTIC PURE REFINED STEEL SPRINGS, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable SPRING ever used. They seldom bend or break, like the Single Spring, and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful Shape more than twice as long as any single spring skirt that ever has or can be made.

The wonderful flexibility and great comfort experienced particularly in all crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm Chairs, for Promonade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a Silk or Muslin Dress.

A Lady having Enjoyed the Pleasure, Comfort and Great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.

The Hoops are covered with 2-ply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the single yarn covering which is used on all Single Hoop Skirts. The three bottom rods on every Skirt are also Double Steel, and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when dragging down stairs, stone steps etc, etc, which they are constantly subject to when in use.

All are made of the new and elegant Corded Tapes, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect Shape possible, and are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable, comfortable and economical Skirt ever made.

For sale in all first-class stores in this City, and throughout the United States and Canada, Havana de Cuba, Mexico, South America and the West Indies.

Late Papers.

To the Citizens of North-Carolina.

The termination of a sanguinary contest, which for the past four years has presented an impassable barrier to all social or commercial intercourse between the two great sections of our country, having at length happily cleared away all obstacles to a removal of those relations which formerly bound us together in a fraternal union, I take the earliest opportunity afforded me by this auspicious event, to greet my Southern friends, and to solicit from them a renewal of that extensive business connection which for a quarter of a century has been uninterrupted save by the great public calamity to which I have adverted.

It is scarcely necessary, on the threshold of a business re-union, I should repeat the warning so often given to my friends,—to beware of all those spurious and deleterious compounds which, under the specious and false titles of Imported Wines, Brandies, Holland Gin, Liquors, &c., have been equally destructive to the health of our citizens as prejudicial to the interests of the legitimate Importer.

Many years of my past life have been expended in an open and candid attempt to expose these wholesale frauds; no time nor expense has been spared to accomplish this salutary purpose, and to place before my friends and the public generally, at the lowest possible market price, and in such quantities as might suit their convenience, a truly genuine imported article.

Twenty-five years' business transaction with the largest and most respectable exporting houses in France and Great Britian have afforded me unsurpassed facilities for supplying our home market with Wines, Liquors, and Liqmures of the best and most approved brands in Europe, in addition to my own distillery in Holland for the manufacture of the "Schiedam Schnapps."

The latter, so long tested and approved by the medical Faculties of the United States, West Indies and South America as an invaluable Therapeutic, a wholesome, pleasaht, and perfectly safe beverage in all climates and during all seasons, quickly excited the cupidity of the home manufacturers and venders of a spurious article under the same name.

I trust that I have, after much toil and expense, surrounded all my importations with safeguards and directions which with ordinary circumspection will inshure their delivery, as I receive them from Europe, to all my customers.

I would however, recommend in all cases where it is possible, that orders be sent direct to my Depot. 22 Beaver Street, New York, or that purchases be made of my accredited agents.

In addition to a large stock of Wines, Brandies, &c. in wood, I have a considerable supply of old tried foreign wines, embraceing vintages of many past years, bottled up before the commencement of the war, which I can especialy recommended to all connaisseurs of these rare luxuries.

In conclusion, I wotld especially call the earley attention of my Southern customers to the advantage to be derived by transmitting their orders without loss of time, of time, or calling personally at the Depot, in order to inshure the fulfilment of their favors from the present large and well selected assortmemt.

LET US BE PATIENT.

There never was a time when a people were called upon, so forcibly as the present, to exercise patience, forbearance and fortitude. Let us bear and forbear. It is worse than idle to indulge in criminations and heart-burnings over either the past or the present; but in the eloquent language, so appositely adopted by Bro. Cole as his motto, let us march forth into the dim and shadowy future without fear, and with a manly heart. Our application for admission into full communion with our sister States has been made. It behooves us to wait a time with patience until the answer come. Let us remember that Messrs, Sumner and Wilson, though possessing high abilities, are not either the whole North or the whole Congress. What reason had we to expect members to be admitted to seats who could not comply with the law? On the contrary, we had the whole press of the North and their leading public men, declaring time and again, that the test oath would be enforced. We had every reason to believe also that the election of Gov. Holden would have been hailed as an auspicious event. We failed to come up to the terms which, without being written down in tolidem verbis, were as equally well understood, or should have been. Then why complain, or if complain, why not direct the complaints in the right direction? We shall not attempt to feed the public on that wishy-washy stuff—that milk-and-water philosophy which answers all difficulties by that grand "specific," that everything happens for the best, but we will say to our friends in the old homely adage, "don't kick till you are spurred." It is not all settled yet, and if you didn't support Gov. Holden, at least take the advice he used to urge so ardently in the winter of 1860-'61, "watch and wait." The North are a religious people, and although they were greatly aroused at what they conceive to have been an attempton our part to break up, without cause, a common Government, yet if these feelings are not continually stirred up and kept alive, by intemperate and inconsiderate taunts, coming from among us, the sober second thought will come; the teachings of our Holy religion will knock at their hearts, and ere long, charitable and then friendly and kindly feelings will spring up. Give the victor cooling time. They are not Scandinavians or Turks, or Arabs or Chinese, but Anglo-Saxons, with ourselves. We do not believe that they either intend or desire to oppress or ruin us, but they may wish to put us on a longer probation than they would have done, had we listened to their admonitions. The more we gnash our teeth and fret and fume over the matter, the more confirmed will they become in their present impressions. Many of our people advocate this idea and think it meets every difficulty that might be urged; namely: "we have taken the Amnesty Oath." The Northman replies, yes, but those of you who had taken an oath to support the Constitution of the United States broke it, so what does an oath signify? The North views the War from one stand-point and the South from an altogether different one. The one says you are a traitor—the other disclaims ever having committed that crime. Who is to decide? Practically, the victor. But when you cease to indulge in useless repinings, injudicious criticisms and uncalled-for sneers, the Northman's sympathy will begin to be aroused. He will open himself to conviction and may make concessions at which your surprise will only equal your gratification. But he must do it in his own way and in his own good time, not at your bidding. You cannot expedite, but may seriously retard such a happy result, by grumbling and snarling—by too much talking "out of the mouth."

NEW BOOKS.

We return our thanks to Bro. O. L. Spaulding, late Col. 23d Michigan, for a copy of a work, entitled "The Master Mason's Guide," edited by Bro. A. J. Utley of Indiana.

We commend this little book to the most favorable consideration of the Order. We regard it as decidedly the very best hand-book extant, and a desideratum in Blue Lodge Masonry. It is the first Monitor we have ever seen, which is confined strictly to the Symbolic degrees, and this circumstance should give it, when taken into consideration with its other merits, a great run, for the great majority of the craft have only taken the third degree, and as the parts in the other Monitors devoted to the Chapter Council and Encampment degrees, are omitted—the cost of the book is so greatly diminished as to put it within the power of any to buy. It contains, besides the exoteric parts of the Blue Lodge degrees—funeral and dedication ceremonies, order of processions, the Landmarks, duties, &c., of officers, order of business, notes of general information, and several valuable forms. It is bound in muslin, clearly printed on good paper, 192 pages, and six by four inches. The Fraternity are under many obligations to Bro. Utley for his enterprise, and we wish him much success in the sale of his book.

The December No. is filled with interesting and important Masonic matters, and will compare very favorably in typographical appearance with any. We believe it is the only Masonic periodical published South. The Fraternity should build it up. The question of negro Masonry is touched upon. We hope the discussion of this question will be confined to the Masons and Masonic papers, it ought not to have a place in the political papers of the day, and we are glad to to see that within our observation, none of our contemporaries who have seen "that hieroglyphic bright" have commented upon it. Terms $3 per year.

Edited by Bro. Robt. Morris published at Chicago. A very nice readable Magazine, (monthly) and well gotten up. Terms $2 per year.

DEATH OF MR. FULTON.

It is with much regret that we announce to our readers the death, in this place, yesterday, of a congestive chill, of James Fulton, Esq., the senior editor and proprietor of the Wilmington Daily Journal. This sad event has cast a deep gloom upon the entire community, to many of whom he was personally known, and by all has been highly esteemed and respected for years. His death was somewhat sudden, as he had been confined only a few days; many indeed of his friends were unaware of his illness until told that he was dead.

Mr. Fulton was a native of Ireland, whence he emigrated to this country when about twelve years of age. He came to Wilmington in Morch 1849, and assumed the editorial management of the Journal on the occasion of the death of its previous editor, David Fulton, an elder brother. Previous to that time, he had been for several years, editor and proprietor of the Charlotte Democrat. Ever since his first removal to this place, he has continued a citizen here, and during that time maintained his first position as editor of the Journal. He was perfectly sensible yesterday of his approaching end, and a few hours previous to his death, mentioned to some that he had but a few hours longer to live. He was, at the time of his death, comparatively a young man, being only about thirty nine years of age.

The entire public record of Mr. Fulton needs no comment here; a simple sketch will suffice. Himself a member of the great democratic party, his paper was always a true and faithfull exponent of the principles of that party. With unswerving fidelity, from first to last, he stood by the platform of his party, and it is not strange that the Journal at length should have grown to exercise an influence on the public mind, second to that of no paper in the state, not even the far-famed Raleigh Standard.

Mr. Fulton was certainly a man of genius and attainments. With a mind well stored with the varieties of knowledge; with a powerful and retentive memory, which was always craving for more, and gifted with an excellent facility for expression, it is not strange that his career has been a successful one, and that, now he has gone, a void has been left which cannot be easily filled. With a ready and pungent wit, yet with a peculiar delicacy of expression, no man could approach more readily a disagreeable subject, and none could convey a reproof more keenly, yet with so little offence

We have been requested to state that, in consequence of this sad bereavement, the publication of the Journal will be suspended to day.

The funeral of Mr. Fulton will be attended from his late residence on Fourth street, between Princess and Chestnut, this afternoon, at three o'clock. Witmington Herald, 14.

A good story is told about the Rev. Robert J, Breckinridge, who was temporary chairman of the Baltimore Convention last year, and the late Thomas F. Marshal, of Kentucky.—Both, measured lances with Hrnry Clay, and, of course got the worst of it. A few years afterward the two met—the latter being on one of his customary sprees. The lawyer exclaimed to the divine; "Ah! Bob, it was an unlucky day for us when we tilted against the Great Harry? It drove me to the bottle, and you to the pulpit, Bob; but I've stuck a d—d sight closer to my text than you have to yours."

"Working for bare life," is defined to be making clothes for a new baby.

North Carolina Legislature

SENATE.

Friday, December 15.

Senate met pursuant to adjournment. Journal of yesterday read.

Mr. Ferebe, from the committee on military affairs, reported that the committee had waited on Maj. Gen. Ruger, commanding the department of North Carolina, at his headquarters in Raleigh, and laid before him a copy of the Senate resolution. At this interview the committee stated that in their opinion much apprehension existed in the public mind of a meditated outbreak, or insurrectionary movements on the part of the negroes, during the approaching Christmas holiday; that these apprehensions proceeded from reports widely current, and we believe to be not without foundation, of menacing language and unexplained and significant acts—expressions of discontent proceeding from many of them—and that this uneasiness was largely increased in the eastern part of the State, the whole white population to a greater or less degree, has been deprived of their arms, while on the other hand, the negroes, many of whom have been recently discharged from the military service of the United States, have arms. The committee further stated to Gen. Ruger, that even the police force ordered for the several counties were imperfectly organized and poorly provided with arms, and it was important that arms should be supplied them.

General Ruger received the committee with courtesy, and was frank and unreserved in the expression of his own views on the subject to which his attention had been invited. From any information which he had been able to obtain, he did not regard a projected insurrectionary movement among the freedmen, as at all probable, and if attempted, he believed the force under his command was adequate to any emergency likely to arise. He, however, stated that he would embody his answer to the Senate resolution in a written communication, addressed to the chairman of the committee on military affairs. This communication has since been received.

Failing in this astempt to procure arms and ammunition for the purpose of enabling the militia in the State, recently organized in each county, under an ordinance of the convention, as auxillary to the police authorities, to more effectually suppress any insurrectionary movement, the committee know of no other source from which they can be immediately obtained. They have, therefore, Instructed me to report the resolution back to the Senate, with the accompanying answer of Maj. Gen. Ruger, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the same:

HEAD QR'S, DEP'T OF N. C.
Raleigh, Dec. 13, 1865.

Hon. D. D. Ferebee, Chairman Senate Committee on Military Affairs in N. Carolina:

SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of copy of resolution as follows:

Resolved, That the committee on military affairs be instructed to ascertain whether or not ammunition and arms can be immediately obtained with a view of enabling the militia of the State, recently organized in each County, under an ordinance of the Convention, as auxiliaries to the police authorities, to more effectually suppress any insurrectionary movement on the part of Freedmen should they attempt it, and report by bill or otherwise, and to reply to enquiry based thereon.

I have no authority to order the issue of arms or ammunition to any militia organization of the State. The manner in which such issues are made by the general government to the several States is presented by act of Congress, and does not come within my province as department commander. The use, as stated in the resolution, for which arms and ammunition are designed, is, to suppress any insurrectionary movement on the part of the freedmen. The matter of a possible outbreak on the part of the freedmen in certain parts of the State during the season of the coming holidays, has been brought to my attention; but, I have been unable to ascertain that there is any credence of such intention on their part. There is sufficient force at the disposal of the military authorities to enforce order. The concentration of all colored troops (whose presence has been a source of disgust to the people of some localities) to the sea coast forts under recent orders and the garrisoning of stations formerly occupied by them by white troops, should, when taken in connection with the fact that the troops will be so stationed as to be within easy reach of all parts of the State, be sufficient to allay apprehension to be inferred as existing from the resolutions above quoted. The local police companies in localities where there are no troops stationed, would have authority to act in case of emergency, and with the assistance, if necessary, of the people, could promptly suppress any outbreak.

Very Respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
THOS. H. RUGER,
Brev. Maj. Gen. Commanding.

Mr. Faison, from the committee of conference on the salary of comptroller, &c., reported that the conference could not agree, and recommended that the subjects be deferred to the 1st Monday in February next.

A bill relative to the destruction of public records in the county of Alexander, was read the first time and passed.

Mr. Cowles, from the committee on claims, reported back a bill in favor of Briggs & Dodd, and recommended that it do pass.

The vote by which the bill to more effectually prevent horse stealing, was laid on the table, was reconsidered. On motion of Mr. Williams, the bill was taken up and passed a second reading.

The bill for the relief of persons holding the State bonds made for the benefit of the Wilmington and Rutherford Rail Road, being on its third reading, was, on yesterday, discussed at considerable length. Mr. Cowles called for the yeas and nays and remarked that he opposed the passage of the bill for the reason that he was not in favor of paying off the bonds held by corporations whilst the bonds held by citizens were to be considered as repudiated. If we pay one portion of the State debt created during the war we ought to pay upon a proper scale of value, the whole of it. If corporations were to be reimbursed for any loss they may have sustained by reason of having invested in the bonds issued by the State during the rebellion. Then he was in favor of reimbursing the citizens who had invested in the same lands. Mr. Cowles demanded the yeas and nays for the purpose of placing himself right upon the record.

The yeas and nays, however, were not taken, and the bill passed its third reading.

The hour of 12 o'clock having arrived, Senators repaired to the hall of the House of Commons, to witness the administration of the oaths of office to the Hon. Jonathan Worth, Governor elect.

Senators having returned to their Chamber, the bill authorizing the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad Company to establish a ferry across the Roanoke river at Gaston, was read and passed its third reading—Mr. Whitford explaining the objects of the ferry as legitimate and necessary, and expressing the hope that it do pass.

Mr. Gash introduced a resolution rescinding the joint order to adjourn to the first Monday in February, and substituting the fourth Monday in January. Laid on the table.

Mr. Gash, a resolution allowing Sheriffs further time to make their returns.

The hour of 1 o'clock having arrived, the Speaker announced the special order to be the report of the committee on Federal relations.

Mr. Wilson addressed the Senate at length in support of the resolutions, and in reply to Mr. Warren's remarks on yesterday.

Mr. Warren sustained the position taken by him on yesterday, and the resolutions passed their third reading.

The Senate then adjourned till to-morrow morning 10½ o'clock.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

FRIDAY, Dec. 15, 1865.

The Speaker called the House to order.

Prayer by Rev. L. Branson, of the M. E. Church.

Mr. Manly, for the committee on the Judiciary reported on several bills and resolutions as follows:

On the bill to prevent discontinuance of causes, favorably, with a slight amendment.

On the resolution to compensate Sheriffs for holding the election on the Convention ordinances, unfavorably.

On the resolution of inquiry as to the expediency of allowing the County Courts to levy a tax for county purposes, that his power already exists, but is suspended by military law, discharged from further consideration.

On the bill for the relief of citizens of Yancy county, that a general bill on the subject is under consideration in the Senate, recommending to await the result of that measure.

On the bill to establish a bridge across Hiwassee River, to refer the same to the committee on Internal Improvements, and it was so ordered.

Mr. Blackmer for the committee on Corporations, reported back the bill to amend the charter of the town of High Point, in the county of Guilford, with an amendment, and recommended its passage.

Mr. Hutchinson moved to send a message to the Senate proposing to rescind so much of the joint order of adjournment, which provides for reassembling on the first Monday in February, and proposing to insert "fourth Monday in January."

Mr. Burgess moved to amend by proposing "June" for "January."

Mr. Waugh moved to lay the whole subject on the table and the motion prevailed.

Mr. Jenkins of Warren introduced a bill to allow the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad company to erect a ferry across the Roanoke river at Gaston for the transportation of freight and passengers, which passed the several readings under a suspension of the rules.

By Mr. Holderby, a resolution instructing the committe on Swamp Lands to report the value of swamp lands belonging to the literary fund, to the present General Assembly, adopted.

A message was received from the Senate transmitting engrossed resolution requesting the Board of Directors of the Deaf and Dumb and Blind Asylum to commence the exercise of that institution on the 1st of January next, and requesting the Provisional Governor to furnish any funds at his command for the absolutely necessary expenses of the same; passed the several readings under a suppension of the rules.

The bill to amend the charter of the Tuckasege and Keowee Turnpike company, passed the several readings.

Bill for relief of poor debtors, read second time and rejected.

Resolution making oppropriation for the Insane Asylum, passed the second reading and, on motion of Mr. Smith of Hertford, was referred to the committee of Finance.

The bill to prevent the discontinuance of causes in certain cases, was read second time, the amendment of the committee adopted, and the bill passed the second and third reading.

The bill to regulate terms of the Supreme Court, passed the several readings.

The bill to repeal sec. 10, chap. 12, laws of 1860-'61, passed the several readings.

The resolution to compensate sheriffs for holding the election on certain ordinances of the Convention, passed the several readings.

The bill for the relief of citizens of Yancy county; read second time and laid upon the table.

12 O'CLOCK, M.

The Senate entered the Hall and took the front seats on the right of the Speaker—the Speaker of the Senate seated by the side of the Speaker of the House, Jonathan Worth, Esq., Governor elect, and W. W. Holden, Provisional Governor, and Daniel G. Fowle, Judge of the Superior Court, entered, accompanied by the committee of arrangements, and took the seats appropriated to them in front of the Speaker's Chair.

The oaths of office were then taken by the Governor elect, before Judge Fowle, who announced that the same had been taken and subscribed.

After a short address by Mr. Worth, the Senate retired and the House resumed business.

Mr. Dalby introduced a resolution in regard to instructing the Public Treasurer to sell the stocks owned by the State; referred to the committee on finance.

A message was received from the Senate and concurred in, amending the title of the bill exchanging bonds issued to the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad.

The bill to empower A. C. Lathan, former sheriff of Craven county, to collect arrears of taxes; the amendment of the committee was adopted and the bill passed the second and third readings.

On motion of Mr. Waugh the House adjourned.

ACTION OF THE HOUSE UPON THE CREDENTIALS OF THE TENNESSEE MEMBERS.

Washington Dec. 12, 1865.—Mr. Raymond rose to present to the House credentials signed by the Governor and bearing the seal of the State of Tennessee, certifying that certain persons therein named were elected in due conformity with the laws of the State and of the U. S., and were therefore entitled to seats as members of the House. He presented those papers simply that they might come before the House.

Mr. Stephens interposed a point of order. He held that this was not a question of privilege. The State of Tennessee was not known to this House.

The Speaker overruled the gentleman, saying the usage was uniform to present credentials as a question of privilege.—It was for the House to determine whether they should be laid upon the table or referred.

Mr. Washburne, of Ill., understood the object of the gentleman was to get the papers before the House, and to refer them to the select committee on the subject of the late so-called Confederate States, when appointed.

Mr. Raymond replied that he would explain himself what the object was. He wanted the papers before the House. There were many facts connected with Tennessee's past and present conduct which commended its case to the earliest consideration of the House. He did not wish to make any extended remarks. He was quite willing to move such reference of the credentials as would meet the wishes of the friends around him. In order to test the views of the House, he moved that they be referred to the joint committee on the subject of the late so-called Confederate States, when appointed, and he demanded the previous question.

Mr. Johnson called for the reading of the credentials, when those of Horace Maynard were read. The other credentials were in precisely the same form.

Mr. Bingham asked the gentlemen from New York to waive his demand for the previous question, in order that he might make a suggestion which he hoped would meet the gentleman's acceptance, and thus avoid a contest at this time.

Mr. Raymond temporarily withdrew his motion, when

Mr. Bingham asked the gentleman to substitute something like this, namely:

Resolved, That a committee of thirteen shall be appointed by the House, and instructed to inquire and report whether the State of Tennessee, heretofore declared in insurrection against the United States, has organized a constitutional government, republican in form, and in conformity with the Constitution and laws of the United States, and is entitled to representation in Congress.

He made this suggestion, because it was obvious that the House might be driven to a decision in this case without any inquiry at all. They ought to know whether there is a constitutianal government in Tennessee. If this was satisfactory to Congress, then he, for one, would be in favor of admitting her representatives.

Mr. Finck suggested that the gentleman from New York withdraw his motion, and that the gentlemen holding credentials be now sworn in.

Mr. Raymond declined to do that, and in reply to the gentleman from Ohio, [Mr. Bigham,] remarked it was due to frankness to say he had no such doubts as those suggested. Therefore, he did not see the necessity of making the inquiry suggested.

Mr. Bingham replied, he did not say there were doubts, and he had no opinions at present to express, but he asked Congress not to set a precedent without due consideration.

Mr. Grider said this was a plain question, whether Mr. Maynard and his colleagues should be entitled to seats, and he hoped the House would come to a decision at once.

Mr Randall, of Pennsylvania; suggested it was not proper to refer the credentials to a joint committee, as the Constitution provided that each House is the sole judge of the elections, qualifications, and returns of its own members.

Mr. Ingersoll suggeste that as no select committee had yet been appointed, would it not be as well to postpone the consideration of this subject for one week.

Mr. Raymond said if he followed the bent of his inclination, he should move to refer the credentials to the committee on elections. He did not suppose the action of the House would be bound by a concurrent resolution of the two branches; but he felt it due, in deference to the opinion of other members, and to the action of the Senate, that the credentials should take the direction which he had indicated. This subject would be duly considered in that committee, and then come before the House for its action. His object was to secure the earliest admission of the Tennessee members.

Mr. Smith understood the gentleman from New York to say that the State of Tennessee occupied a [illegible] heretofore in rebellion. Would it not therefore be better that the credentials be referred to the committee on elections? The State of Tennessee did every thing which the government demanded. It repudiated the rebel debt, passed the constitutional anti-slavery amendment, and declared null and void all ordinances of secession, and sent the best character of men here to represent her; men who, in 1862, and to the close of the war, have shown devotion to the government equal to that of any men on the floor of Congress. Every one of them elected could take the oath of loyalty prescribed by law.

The demand for the previous question was seconded, and under its operation the motion of Mr. Raymond was agreed to—yeas, 125; nays, 42.

So the credentials of the persons claiming seats in the House from the State of Tennessee were referred to the joint committee of fifteen, if the same shall be appointed.

Mr. Stevens offered a resolution to admit those persons to the floor of the House.

Mr. Brooks had no objection to the proposition if the gentleman would amend it so as to give all the claimants of seats from the South the same privilege.

Mr. Wilson of Iowa, objected to the consideration of the resolution.

Mr. Eldridge offered the resolution read on Monday and published yesterday; but the House, by avote of 25 yeas against 108 nays, refused to second the demand for the previous question on its passage.

Mr. Cobb offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That until otherwise ordered, Nathaniel G. Taylor, Horace Maynard, William B. Stokes, Edmund Cooper, William B. Campbell, Samuel M. Arnell, Isaac R. Hawkins, and John W. Leftwich be invited to occupy seats in the Hall of Representatives.

Mr. Wilson unsuccessfully moved to lay the resolution on the table.

The resolution was then agreed to—yeas, 133; nays 35.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The findings and sentence of the Naval Court Marshal for the trial of Commodore Craven for refusing to fight the Stonewall have been published. The Court sentenced him to be suspended for two years, which decision was reiterated upon the returning of the sentence by the Secretary of the Navy disapproved. The Secretary then dissolved the Court, and ordered Commodore Craven to return to his duty.

The United States Supreme Court room to-day was crowded with Attorneys to hear the important argument in reference to the application of Mr. Garland, of Arkansas, to be admitted to practice in that Court. Mr. Carpenter of Wisconsin, advocated the readmission of Mr. Garland to practice, contending that the President's pardon restoring the petitioner to all his civil and political rights. Although he (Carpenter) sustained the President in suppressing the rebellion, now, that the war was over, he was perfectly willing to take by the hand his reconstructed brother. He contended that the test oath was unconstitutional.

Attorney General Speed, in replying, argued that Congress has the right to fix the qualifications for office, and that tho' a pardon removed the consequences of crime, it was not a key to unlock the Government offices. Mr. Garland was no more restored to his right to practice in that Court on account of the President's pardon, than were those who took part in the rebellion to the offices they previously occupied under the United States Government.

Hon. Reverdy Johnson will continue the argument next Friday for the petitioner.

Speoial Notice.

MR. EDITOR:—Through the agency of a friend residing in Cleveland Tenn., I have secured the services of MISS L. RUGGLES as Teacher in Concord Female College. Pile in your advertisements gentlemen if you wish everybody and the "rest of mankind" to know what you have to sell, or want to buy, etc., etc. The Banner's increasing circulation all over this section, will convey the glad tidings, Daily and Weekly editions, and when you send in you orders always write at the bottom "Gazette copy" and then you will reach all classes.

A LECTURE BADLY NEEDED.

We earnestly trust that some brilliant fascinating temperance lecturer will make his appearance in our city and endeavor to stay the tide of intemperance which seems to run so strongly. We learn that the police, a few nights since, found eleven men lying drunk on the streets. This vice seems to have increased rather than diminished since the surrender. Can't something be done in the way of moral suasion?

OUR REPRESENTATIVES.

We see by our city contemporary that our representatives have returned. Bro. Cole says that they "voted right." If we are not mistaken, the Senator and Commoners did not pull together in the same harness, and voted diversely on more than one occasion. If so, we don't well see how all could "vote right."

CAN'T DO IT.

The publication of the list of letters, &c., for the Post Office, has been given to our paper heretofore, the law requiring the Postmaster to tender the publication to the paper having the largest circulation, but it actually costs us more than we receive. As our paper is too well established in the public confidence to need any such adventitious aid, we respectfully decline publishing at the present rates. We publish a paper for a livelihood and can't afford to do work for a show.

It is stated that, at no remote period, a bill will be introduced into Congress authorizing the issue of bounty land warrants of 1860 acres of the public lands in honorably discharged and the heirs of deceased soldiers who had borne arms in defence of the government.

THE LATEST AND GREATEST

Discovery in Dental Hygenic, is SOZODONT. It has superseded all the ordinary dentifrices, and, for this reason; that while it contains no solvent principle injurious to the enamel of the teeth, it obliterates tartar and every other dental concretion, prevents canker of the gums, removes blemishes, both from the molars and incisors, and leaves the breath pure and sweet.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE.

I OFFER for sale a small Tract of Land situated on the N. C R. R, 2½ miles South of Salisbury. This Tract contains about 300 acres, more or less, 60 of which has been recently clared and is fresh, and new, and exceedingly fertile—a part of the 60 acres is high meadow land, and constitutes about half of the whole arable land now cleared. The meadow may be used for sereal or grass purposes, and is equally valuable for both. The ballance of the land is well timbered with virgin growth and convenient to a good market. There is also a "Gold Mine" of tested value on the same Tract, to which I propose to attach 30 acres or more of wooded land, which I propose to sell separately. I shall remain in Salisbury for two weeks, where I shall be happy to treat with any person wishing to purchase, after which time I shall intrust the sale of the above to the care of Col. B. Craize my accounted agent. The purchaser can have the benefit of supplying himself with 60 bbls of corn and all of the farming implements &c. necesary to conduct the farm.

PROSPECTUS.

THE publication of the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN will be resumed in Fayetteville, on Weduesday 2d January next.

Confidently relying upon the hearty suport which we have heretofore received, we shall endeavor to render the paper more attractive, both in appearance and matter, than it has ever been, sparing neither pains nor expense, in the accomplishment of this purpose.

With the passing away of old things, a new spirit of activity, energy and enterprise has been infused into every department of secular thought and business. Why should not the CHURCH, also, partake of this progressive advancement? Why should she, of all the agencies, brought to bear with such tremendous force upon the civilization of the present time, be inefficient, laggard and almost hopeless, in the working out of her own destiny?

To arouse the CHURCH to the importance and necessity of WORK: of unceasing, restless, tireless energy in the service of her Master and Head; this shall be our first and chiefest aim. In this we need assistance. We are not alone, sufficient for these things. Our brethren must help us in every way; contributions from their own stores of thought and study; by zealous co operation in a common cause for the benefit of all; by extending our circulation throughout all our borders, and thus giving us both the means and the opportunity of performing well the work to which we have consecrated all that we have, and all that we hope for on the earth.

Chapel Hill N. C, Nov. 13th, '65. 1463m

To the People of the South!

THE OLD

"EXAMINER" REVIVED!!

The undersigned, having purchased its good will and subscription books, proposes to revive, at an early day, the old Richmond Examiner, of which the late John M. Daniel was editor-in-chief, and the undersigned his constant associate for the entire period of the war.

It is believed that the public will recognize an appropriate and practical idea in his enterprise.—Efforts to revive other papers in the South are announced, and it is certainly neither a visionary nor unworthy endeavour for the literary associates of a gallant spirit that now sleeps in the grave to essay honour to his memory and a service to the public by reviving the old Examiner newspaper, so long the ornament of Southern letters, an example at once of the scholarship and chivalry of Virginia; and perhaps the only school in the South of pure and classick English distinct from the models and redeemed from the innovations of Northern instructors.

The fame of the old Richmond Examiner reached to the most distant parts of the world. The paper was well known in Europe. It was pronounced by a distinguished Northern politician "the best exponent of the civilization of the South." It was a school of literary scholarship for the youth of the South; the glass of Southern chivalry; an example of independence, of courage, of iron spirit in newspaper literature, which its chief illustrated in his own noble and severe life, and defended more than once on the field of honor, when the undersigned stood with in the vindication of the freedom of the press.

Surely there are many people in the South who will unite in an effort to revive a newspaper which was an ornament to its literature and a school for its virtues. The task is an ambitious one. But the undersigned attempts it in no mean or flagging spirit. He has already undertaken to marshal a corps of the old writers for the Examiner; he will be able to reproduce its typographical features, and present to Southern readers a fac simile of their old acquaintance; and he fervently trusts and resolutely pledges every resource of intellect and will to breathe again in this form of material resurrection the same spirit of fearless criticism, chivalrous contest and unhesitating encounter with abuse that animated it of old.

The undersigned owns some pledges of affection in this enterprise. His relations with the late John M. Daniel was close, intimate and affectionate to the day of his death. And it will indeed be a labor and aspiration of love if he can produce some echo from the grave of lamented friendship and rekindle from the ashes of the past and the dead some of the fire that illuminated the familiar pages of our literature.

In the present uncertainty of political questions—the dissappointment of old issues and the imperfect development of the new—it would, of course, be impossible to state with precision the political career of the Examiner. But this may be said with safety; that it will use all its influence in restoring order, tranquility and prosperity to the people; and while aspiring to be brave and independent, it will avoid every scheme of faction and disorganization, devote itself to the works of conservatism, and sustain, at every risk, the present President of the United States as long as he fulfills those noble indications he has already given of planting again the rights of constitutional liberty in the South, setting his face against the Malignants of the North, and thus entitling himself to such common support of conservative men in all parts of the country as will secure the continuation of his wise and patriotic administration.

No pains or expense will be spared to make the Examiner the newspaper of the South. For every department of it the services of the most accomplished and active writers will be secured. Special correspondents will be posted in New York and Washington and other important centres of intelligence in the country. A former active editor of the old Examiner, Edward A. Pollard, will be employed as correspondent from Europe in which country he proposes to write a History of the War, and to form a familiar acquaintance with the politics of Europe, especially in connection with American questions and topicks. This correspondence will constitute a special feature of interest in our paper; it will enliven its columns from week to week with the productions of an animated pen; and it will afford our readers a singularly good opportunity to make themselves acquainted with cotemporary Europe, and to apprehend the growing interest of our foreign relations.

The undersigned was recently the editor of the Richmond Times, but in consequence of a disagreement with the part proprietor of that paper, he has been forced to leave it and appeal to the civil courts for his rights; and he now proposes to himself the nobler task of reviving a paper endeared to the South by many memories of the past, and associated with so much that is admirable in its heroick and literary name in history. He calls upon the old subscribers of the Examiner, from Virginia to Texas, to rally to its support, to renew their subscriptions, and to assist in the revival of a paper which has existed for three-quarters of a century, and which has ever been solicitous to honor truth and virtue, prompt to chastise abuses, and ambitious to defend and adorn the civilization and literature o the South.

Advertisements will be inserted on the same terms as published by the other Richmond papers.

The first number of the Examiner will contain a sketch of the life of the late John M. Daniel, whose name is historical in connection with the Virginia press, and than whom the annals of newspaper literature in America show few more extraordinary men—certainly no greater master of vigor and satire in composition. The first numbers will also contain a full and complete account of the evacuation of Richmond, with all the particulars of the surrender of the city, the entry of the troops, the great conflagration, &c., taken from the advance sheets of E. A. Polard's "Fourth Year of the War," now in press. This account will be found intensely interesting; and aside from this consideration, every one should secure and preserve these numbers, as they will be valuable hereafter as affording a true and faithful report of what the South has had hitherto but the imperfect narratives which have been written and published in the Northern [illegible]

The old contributors and correspondents of the Examiner are particularly requested to communicate with the undersigned.

All letters and communications of every character should be addressed to NOTICE.

MODEL SEWING MACHINE.

(From the New York Herald)

Prominent among the mechanical triumphs of this most ingenious age, common honesty compels us to notice the Empire Sewing Machine, commended as justly styled perfection itself. Useful as have been the various sewing machines, from time to time presented to the public, each one of them has been cursed with some radical defect, which detracts from general utility. Warned by the experience of his predecessors, the inventor of the Empire Machine has produced an instrument, combining all the advantages for which others are vaunted, and obviating every defect which can be attributed to them by the most fastidious critic.

The Empire Machine is a marvellous combination of simplicity, economy and perfect workmanship, being durable, free from liability to get out of order, noiseless, and easy of, operation. its mechanical contrivance is such as to secure stability, freedom from accident, and accuracy as to workmanship. By the use of the patented shuttle and straight needle, it makes a stitch, which can neither rip nor ravel, at the same time, it can operate perfectly upon every species of material from leather to cambric. with threads of cotton, linen or silk, from the finest to the coarsest number.

As the Empire Machine is gradually supplanting its more antique rivals, no one in want of a useful instrument of this description, be he or she tailor, coachmaker, dressmaker or seamstress, can do otherwise than secure one of these economical and inimitable machines, suited alike for family and manufacturing purposes. The office of the Empire Manufacturing Co. is at No. 536 Broadway, New York City, where they are now supplying these Empire Machines a prices far below the real value of the instrument.—New York Herald.
